Recovery Guidance

This resource is not a comprehensive list of options, every municipality should assess the local context and determine a strategy that best meets their needs.

GENERAL PLANNING CONSIDERATIONS

- Align street design and recovery strategies to ensure that the public is safe as they reengage in the community.
- Verify roadway ownership, right-of-way area, and sidewalk space for uses other than the existing.
- Review local laws and pass legislation, as needed, to support business recovery.
- Using street space, parking areas, and public right-of-way for outdoor dining to allow compliance with physical distancing guidelines while resuming operations.
- Review existing traffic patterns for vehicles, buses, bicycles, and pedestrians; including ADA accessibility considerations.
- Establish protocols and standards for delivery zones, emergency access, and physical distancing.
- Establish clear zones on sidewalks to ensure for public safety.
- Use physical barriers as a means of separation to delineate areas.
- Use tables, chairs and umbrellas to reinforce the outdoor dining notion.
- Provide a plan illustrating the use of exterior spaces in relation to the principal business location.
- Contact your local municipal codes office to ensure compliance with local regulations.
